LOWER BOARD WILL NOT COMPROMISE

Aldermen Offer $50.00 Increase This Year and $100 Next Year.

NO ACTION IS TAKEN.

Presidents of Two Bodies Will Endeavor to Reach Agreement and Report to Special Meeting Friday.

Standing pat on their original proposition and refusing all compromises with the Board of Aldermen, including a position from the upper board that the license on retail liquor dealers should be $200 this year and $250 next year, the majority in Common Council last night agreed to a joint resolution that the president of the two boards endeavor to reach an agrement and report to another special meeting to be held on next Friday night.

All sixteen members of Council were present and there was a large gallery of spectators who followed with keen interest the proceedings.

Much of the time was taken up by parliamentary discussions the proceedings being enlivened by frequent tilts between President Brumback and Howard W. Smith, who led the forces of the minority. Mr. Smith practically won all of the points for which he contended, causing the president to reverse himself on several matters. He also forced President Brumback to name a conference committee without concluding in it the proposer of the resolution asking for the appointment of the committee an unheard of procedure in council.

As soon as the clerk had read the amendment proposed by the Board of Aldermen, Mr. Harrison introduced a resolution that Common Council non-concur and appoint a conference committee. As a subsitute for this, Mr. Smith moved that Council recede from its former action and concur with the Board of Aldermen. His motion was lost by a vote of 10 to 6. Messrs. Burke, Leadbeater, Lambert, Graham, Williams, Brockett, Harrison, Swan, Chauncey and Brumback voting nay, while Messrs. Smith, Spinks Birrell, Monroe, Marshall and Bryan voted aye.

Mr. Smith then moved that Council appoint a conference committee. This motion was carried b ya unanimous vote, and the chair named Councilmen Leadbeater and Chauncey, who met with Aldermen Fitzgerald and Hill.

After a wait of thirty minutes, while the conference committee was discussing the matter, Council reconvened and by a vote of 10 to 6, sustained the action of the conference committee, who were unwilling to agree to a compromise.

Following this action came an attempt by Mr. Smith to secure the appointment of another committe which was unsuccessful. Mr. Birrell then took the floor, and in an impassioned speech called on the members of the Board to reconcile their differences. He said that the passage of the license law was urgent and that the people hold some on responsible for refusing to enact the important bill which gives the city a large part of its revenue. Mr. Leadbeater called attention to the fact that the license bill was not passed last year until June 13th, and the year prior it did not pass until June 27th.

Mr. Brockett made a lengthy speech in which he defined his position in refusing to agree to any compromise. He declared that the license for selling whiskey in Alexandria was very much smaller than in any other city in the State, and that an increase of one hundred dollars would not be too large. He referred to the need of the city for additional revenue in order to take care of scholos, fire department, etc., and thought it only fair that liquor people should bear this increase.

Mr. Spinks, in answer to Mr. Brockett's speech defined the position of the saloon men in Alexandria; he said that he was conducting an honest business, while some of the men who favored the increases represented corporations which had notoriously robbed the government and the people for years. He mentioned the sugar trust, represented by a member of the council as one of the chief offenders.

Councilman Williams, a member of the finance committee, defended at length the action of his committee in siding upon the increases; he de clared that the city of Alexandria faced a deficit of $39,000.00, and it was, therefore, absolutely necessary that the license be increased.

"What will be the deficit if we agree to the increase in liquor licenses?" asked Councilman Bryan.

"About $33,000 deficit," was the answer.

"Does this include any appropriation for the new high school, the new truck house, or street work for next year?" continued Captain Bryan.

"It does not."

"Will you make the statement that if the license of liquor dealers are increased the city will be able to build a school house and the truck house this year- If so I will agree to vote for the increase." was the next question put to Mr. Williams by Mr. Bryan.

Mr. Williams was plainly disconcerted by this pointed question, which seemed to bring out a fact which had heretofore been overlooked in the discussion. He would not make a direct answer. He said, however, the increase would enable the finance committee to create a sinking fund, but in the very next breath denied that a bond issue was contemplated which would seem to be implied if a sinking fund was created.

Captain Bryan in defending his position, said that he did not think the saloon men in Alexandria were being given a fair deal by Council. They had already paid their state licenses, expecting that the city licenses would remain the same this year as last year. In former years when he was a member of the finance committee the liquor dealers were notified in December when any increase was proposed and given an opportunity to be heard on the subject.

Mr. Williams accused the members of the minority of insincerity; he said that they were all willing to vote the city's money away, but were unwilling to provide revenue for carrying out their propositions. Councilman Smith in defending his position said that he was the author of the resolution providing for the new school house, and had presented to the finance committee a complete plan for the financing of the proposition which had never been reported upon by that committee.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

All the Aldermen were present when the board was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock last night. The license law, which was amended by the upper board last Friday night, was sent to the Common Council, and as there was nothing before the Aldermen, a recess was declared.

After a long interval, Messrs. Leadbeater and Chauncey, of the Common Council, appeared in the chamber and requested the appointment of a conference committee to meet them for the purpose of arriving at some agreement of the new ordinance.

President Marbury appointed Messrs. Hill and Fitzgerald on the part of this board.

After having been out a short time, the committee returned to the chamber and reported that they had been unable to reach an agreement, and were discharged. Another recess was then declared. While waiting for a communication from the lower board Messrs. Hill and Fitzgerald stated that the committee from the Common Council had refused to agree to cmpromises offered by them. Mr. Fitzgerald had suggested to the Common Council committee that the tax on liquor dealers be increased $25 this year and $25 additional each year until the license shall have reached $250. This was rejected, when Mr. Hill suggested that the license be placed at $200 this year and $250 next year. This was also rejected; hence their report to the Aldermen.

The Aldermen continued their recess until after ten o'clock when a resolution was received from the Common Council referring the new ordinance to the presidents of the two bards in order that some plan might be adopted to bring about an agreement between the Board of Aldermen and Common Council, and that should an understanding be reached that another meeting of Council be held next Friday night. The resolution was adopted and the Aldermen adjourned.

MRS. HARRIS SUES THE BAKER ESTATE

Says Congressman Would Have Undoubtedly Married Her.

SHE WANTS $200,000.

Plaintiff Greatly Annoyed by Newspaper Stories Concerning The Action She Has Taken.

Washington, June 4.—"I was Congressman Baker's promised bride."

In these words today Mrs. Magnolia V. A. H. Harris, plaintiff in a $200,000 suit against the late New Hampshire Congressman's estate, answered stories printed about her case in morning newspapers.

She declares the failure of Congresman Baker to provide a prenuptial settlement, as he had agreed with her. His sudden death, she believes, was the reason for this alleged failure to meet the promise.

Thoroughly annoyed by stories of the case as printed in several newspapers, Mrs. Harris today declared that she would say nothing further about the suit now filed in Concord, N. H.

The seven letters, purporting to be love messages from Congressman Baker to Mrs. Harris, are likely to be the only ones submitted in the case when it comes up for trial probably in July, at Concord.

That Mrs. Harris has other letters of General Baker is learned today on unquestionable authority. She will not disclose them, however, because she resents the treatment accorded her by newspapers.

It is explained today that General Baker had every reason to believe that he was on the road to recovery during the spring of 1912, when his death occurred suddenly.

He died at night alone at the Homeopathic Hospital. The plaintiff will contend that the general had no oportunity to change his will, but that the "very old will" mentioned in one of his messages was not his true intention.

DEATH OF MRS STEPHENS.

Mrs. Stephens, the wife of Mr. Wm. A. Stephens died at her home in lower Fauquier county, near Somerville, on Monday last, after a long illness. She had been in failing health for years. A large family connection and many friends mourn the loss of one who was an old and respected resident of the county. She had attained the ripe age of 79 years, while her husband, who survives her in feeble health, has passed his 83rd milestone. They had been married for 56 years. Mrs. Stephens' funeral took place this afternoon.

WANT SAME COURTESY.

Public School Children Would Appreciate Visit to Mount Vernon.

Now that the regents of Mount Vernon have afforded some of the school children of Washington an opportunity to visit the home of George Washington, it is hoped that the same courtesy will be extended to the children of the public schools of Alexandria. The high school boys and girls and the pupils of the higher grades are anxious to make the trip. Many have never visited the home of our first president and they anticipate the instruction such a visit could undoubtedly give them.

School children are always welcome to visit without charge both Christ Church and the lodge rooms of the George Washington lodge in the Masonic Temple.

PRESENTED WITH LOTS.

Meeting of the Virginia Highlands Association.

At a meeting of the Virginia Highlands Citizens' Asosciation, at Virginia Highlands, Va., last night, several important questions were discussed. The citizens were presented with two building lots by the management of the Virginia Highlands Association on which to erect a church, and it now is planned to raise the funds for the erection of the building by the sale of these lots, which contain some 6,000 square feet, to interested persons and friends at from 25 cents to $1 per square foot. The matter of the opening of the county road from Mt. Vernn Avenue to Alexandria Pike was also taken up, and the urgent need of opening this road will be presented to the Board of Supervisors of the county.

The question of the establishment of a commutation rate on the electric railway between Virginia Highland and Washington is one of vital importance to the commuters, as there is now no commutation rate the rate paid being higher than the rate for a nequal distance in any part of the District or Virginia.

AUTOMOBILE LICENSE TAGS

Virginia and District of Columbia Desire Reciprocity.

MANN GETS PETITION.

Alexandria Chamber of Commerce to Take Action in the Matter—Discrepancy of Present Tax.

The establishment of reciprocal relations between Virginia and the District of Columbia in the matter of the issuance of automobile licenses is of great importance to every automobile owner.

Realizing the importance of securing the co-operation of all interested, a meeting of all automobile owners of this city has been called by Mr. George D. Hopkins. The meeting to be held in the chamber of commerce at 8 P. M., Friday, June 6th, 1913.

It is understood that Commonwealth Attorneys Thomas Lion, of Prince William County, and Vernon Ford, of Fairfax county, have written Governor Mann relative to the matter and their action was taken at the request of Commonwealth Attorney Crandal Mackey, of Alexandria county, also that in the event that the negotiations for the establishment of recoprocal relations fail and the District authorities attempt to enforce against Virginia and the requirements of the new automobile regulations recently adopted by the Commissioners, the laws of Virginia will be rigidly enforced against Washington motorists entering that state.

Although the Governor has taken no action, it was pointed out yesterday at the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, where automobile licenses are issued for this state, that there were legal and practical objections in the way of such an arrangement. Section 10 of the automobile act of 1910 gives the governor the right to make reciprocal arrangements for recognition or automobile licenses with other states for not more than two periods in the year of seven days each, this being intended for the accommodation of tourist parties merely passing through the state, or of Virginians touring in other states. Nothing in the act seems to give the Governor authority to make a general reciprocity agreement as to licenses as desired by the Washington and Alexandria authorities, and the belief was expressed that it could only be done by an act of the General Assembly amending the present automobile law.

A practical objection to such a plan lies in the wide discrepancy in license tax. In Washington a license tag costs $2 and may be used perpetually. In Virginia the State automobile tax varies from $5 to $20, according to the size and power of the car, and is an annual tax, the money going to the improvement of public roads. Were a reciprocity arrangement effected with this wide descrepancy in the tax, Virginia people living over the northern part of the state might take out the license in Washington, and so escape their annual contribution to the State good roads fund in Virginia.

Nor does the law give any latitude to the governor in exempting cars from the Virginia tax. Some time ago the question arose as to whether the White House cars used by President Taft were subject to taxation every time they came on Virginia soil. It was found that they required a Virginia license, and governor Mann thereupon ordered the proper license tags forwarded to the White House, having their annual tax charged to the Governor's contingent fund. More recently a question bene raised whether the cars of foreign ambassadors living in Washington, who by treaty, are exempt from taxation in this country, must pay an automobile license if they would cross the Potomac in the course of an afternoon motor ride. Whether general reciprocity is arranged or not, it is possible that the next general assembly may be asked to so amend the act as to extend the hospitalities of Virginia soil to the President of the United States and to the official representatives of foreign governments located at Washington. A general reciprocity, it was suggested, might be arranged with such states as had practically the same automobile license tax as is imposed in Virginia.

CLOSING OF THE SCHOOLS

May Have Summer Retardation Courses During the Year

With the deadlock in the City Council on the new license law, a storm centre is said to exist in the public school system, and while some are disposed to treat the matter as a tempest in a teapot, others prefer to see serious consequences should the City School Board at its meeting tomororw night conclude to continue the sessions of the schools until the 23rd, as has been suggested. The scholars want the closing to take place on the 15th. Already many pouting children are loking daggers at members of the Board and it is said that some are in the borders of insubordination should that body refuse to clse the schools earlier in the month.

The teachers in the pubilc schools are paid for ten months' services, or up to June 30, but last year the schools were closed on the 17th of June. There will have been 198 school days during the year about to close.

In some places in the state retardation schools are held during the summer months for the benefit of scholars who fail to keep up with their classes, and Superintendent Sweeney will request permission to introduce the same in Alexandria, which will have half day sessions during the prevalence of hot waves.

YOUTH FINED FIVE DOLLARS.

Playing Ball in the Streets Brings on Trouble With a Woman.

A youth named Raymond Grover was brought befre Police Court this morning to answer the charge of disorderly conduct. He had been arrested at the instance of a woman. According to her statement the prisoner and other boys were throwing a baseball in the southwestern section of the city which was an annoyance to her and her family. The ball finally struck one of her boys who was on the pavement, when the latter picked it up and took it into his house. The owner of the ball followed the youth into the house and when he demanded its return and was refused he became involved in a difficulty with other members of the family. It was alleged that the owner of the ball used threatening language to the entire household. Juctice Caton imposed a fine of $5 against the accused and warned him if he interfered with the complainants in any way a heavier assessment would be made.

In this connection it may be stated that the practice of throwing baseballs in the street is an annoyance in other sections of the city, as occasionally people are struck by them. Protests generally are followed by defiance upon the part of those who persist in engaging in the diversion. Complaint has frequently been made against ball throwing on Lee street, near Wilkes, about the only place in the neighborohod where people can enjoy summer outings. Several people have been struck by balls recently.

The Selection of Wedding Gifts Is Made Easy in the Gift Room of Handsome China and Cut Glass

Very special preparations have been made in the China and Glassware departments to make it easy for the seeker of wedding gifts to locate and select the articles that mean so much to the new couple just starting life.

A special room has been arranged for this purpose and the choicest pieces of the highest artistic merit are appropriately displayed on tables to render every facility to those inspecting. The leading producers of Europe are well represented in this complete display, portraying so much of the rich and beautiful, the dainty and the elegant.

Hand-Painted China in the most realistic designs is also assembled; beautiful shapes artistically wrought in punch bowls, chocolate sets, plates and various other table and decorative pieces are to be found here that cannot be duplicated in the city, and some that are entirely exclusive.

New Plastic Artware—This very beautiful display of Chinaware is flanked by no less interesting in the form of New Art Work; this is a dull brown plastic composition, produced in many odd and unique designs, but always with that indefinable touch of art in the subjects and the molding of the pieces that carries its value far above its moderate price. Vases, in new and original designs; quaint bowls for various uses; candlesticks in odd new shapes that will serve the same practical purpose as of old.

SAILORS CHECK FLAMES.

Prevent Disastrous Fire at Newport News, Where School is Burned.

Newport News, Va., June 4.—Fire, believed to have been started by small boys smoking cigarettes on the first floor of the building, completely destroyed the high school building, a four-story brick structure in the heart of the city, last night, entailing a loss of approximately $40,000.

The flames had gained great headway before being discovered and only the daring and spectacular work of a score of sailors from the Atlantic batteship fleet prevented a serious conflagration.

The sailors fought the blaze with a reckless abandon that brought applause from the thousands of spectators that viewed the blaze. Seven of the sailors were injured or burned, and two firemen were overcome by smoke. Only one of the sailors, Max Perry, of the battleship Rhode Island, was seriosuly hurt. He fell from a ladder in a second-story window and had his right shoulder fractured. He is in a hospital. All of the high school records an dexamination papers were destroyed.

FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Congressman Glass Tells Body There is no Doubt Labor Should Organize.

Danville, Va., June 4.—The feature of the opening session of the eighteenth annual convention of the Virginia Federation of Labor, which opened yesterday morning with about 150 delegates present, including several women delegates, was the address of Representative Carter Glass of the Sixth District.

Addresses of welcome were made by Mayor Harry Wooding and by Wm. A. Moorman, on behalf of the city and the commercial interests. President E. C. Davidson responded briefly to the welcoming speeches.

Rev. J. T. Mastin, secretary of the State Board of Charities, and Corrections also addressed the convention, stressing the work of the charities conference in the matter of dealing with inebriates and with youthful prisoners by segregation and employment on industrial farms.

Congressman Glass told his hearers by way of showing his appreciation of the invitation to address them that he had had to leave his son three hours after the youth had undergone a surgical operation, and had to cancel an engagement with the President of the United States to be present. He expressed regret that his preoccupation by government matters of immediate importance had precluded his preparation of his speech, but he assured the Federation that there could be no question in the minds of thoughtful people that labor should organize.

The laboring men of the country were becoming wiser every year in dealing with the questions that most concern them, and he believed the final solution of the questions arising between capital and labor would be worked out, not by capitalists, but by the laboring men themselves.

Turning a moment to the tarif question and taxation, he avowed his conviction that laboring men do not get any protection from the high tariff, but what protection they do get is from organized labor.The reason the protected interests are raising the wages of employes is not because of the protective tariff or that they can better afford to pay more. It is rather because the leaders of organized labor are demanding a higher wage.

Mr. Glass expressed his conviction that the influence of pauper labor was a factor in the wage question and declared himself earnestly in favor of the pending immigration bill, which, though twice defeated, he believed would be passed at the pending session. "We are going to carry this bill the next time it comes before the House," he said.

COUNCILMEN FAIL TO GET TOGETHER.

It was evident last night that the time for reaching a compromise on the sections relating to the sale of liquor in the new license bill had not come, as no advance towards that desideratum was made. Members of the lower board who had insisted upon adding one hundred dollars to the tax heretofore imposed upon dealers in liquors refused to recede. and the special meeting of Council did not change the situation which brought about the deadlock last week.

The members of the conference committee of the Common Council declined the terms of compromise offered by a similar committee from the Aldermen, who proposed, first, that twenty-five dollars be added this year and the same amount during the next three years until the license tax shall have reached the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars. Another suggestion that the license tax be placed at two hundred dollars this year and two hundred and fifty dollars in 1914 was also rejected. Hence the committees reported that no agreement had been reached.

Most of the time of the lower board was consumed in debating points of order and parliamentary tactics, and it was late before anything tangible resulted, when a resolution was adopted by the lower board which makes the president of the Common Council and the president of the Board of Aldermen a committee of conference, and should they reach any agreement another special meeting of Council will be held next Friday night.

The issue which has been raised by the divergence of opinion between the Common Council and the Board of Aldermen is the principal theme of conversation among all classes of the community. The standpatters are being applauded by many, while equally as many more had hoped somebody would recede and an understanding be reached last night.

Like other deadlocks which have occurred in Council in recent years, the matter will finally be adjusted by both parties relaxing after a sufficient time shall have elapsed to enable both camps to realize that they have been elected to work in harmony and for the city's interests.

Thomas N. Carter, formerly of Alexandria, was tried yesterday in Manassas on a very serious charge and was fined $50. He was represented by Attorney Robinson Moncure, of this city.

If the members of City Council are not careful about this license question each body will be calling the other pig-headed before long. What is more, each will be right, unless the report is true that the aldermen are willing to meet Common Council half way this year and go the whole route next year. In this event the prize for boneheadedness will be awarded to the lower board. What we want now is a license law.

Getting new candidates into the state fight has an enlivening influence. Kick the lid off the campaign, gentlemen, and let's get 'er started.

A congressional investigating committee ought to be appointed to find out how T. R. has invested those six cents.

The poor old Commoner is going to have a hard time discovering its place of publication. It's old Nebraska home; the capitol city or the Canal zone.

A New York judge is trying to divide five children between two divorced parents. It occurs to us that one of those kids is in for a rough experience.

Sunk in Mud.

After a night of terror in the marshes that fringe Jamaica Bay, N Y., Mrs. Clementine Smith, 69 years old, of Springfield, Long Island, was rescued yesterday morning from a quagmire in which she had sunk to her neck. Mrs. Smith left her home Monday evening to visit a friend in a nearby village. In the darkness she wandered from the highway and became lost in the stretches of marshes and meadow.

Kills Baby Sister.

An unusual case of alleged precocious violence is reported in Newark N. J. The authorities decided that the death of the two-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pezzano, which occurred Monday night, was due to a fist blow on the head dealt by the infant's 20-month-old brother, Angelo. The boy had previously exhibited jealousy toward his new sister, scratching her face in the presence of witnesses. The baby died shortly after being left alone with her brother, from a hemorrhage at the base of the brain.

Killed by Automobile.

Miss Helen Purgens and her sister, Mrs. Evelyn Hanson, of Hempstead Long Island, fainted yesterday when an automobile in which they were riding killed Hugo Waschmidt in Hempstead. The automobile was being driven along Chery Valley road, near the fashionable Salisbury golf course when according to Chauffeur John Hanson, Waschmidt stepped directly in its path. Hanson said the man paid no heed to the horn. Wachschmidt's neck was broken and his skull fractured.

Editor Sent to Jail.

Alexander Scott, editor of the Weekly Issue, an organ of the Industrial Workers of the World, published in Passaic, N J, was convicted yesterday afternoon of publishing matter hostile to the government, in that he attacked the police authorities for their method of handling the silk workers' strike. Scott was convicted under an act passed shortly after the assasination of President McKinley. His offense constitutes a high misdemeanor, punishable by a maximum term of seven years' imprisonment.

ORANGEMEN'S RIFLES SEIZED

One Thousand From Germany Confiscated at Belfast.

Belfast, Ireland, June 4.—The Government learned last week that the Orange clubs were expecting a large consignment of arms from Germany. One thousand rifles, with bayonets, arrived here today on a steamer from Manchester, in cases marked "electrical fittings."

Government officials say they are fully informed on the plans of the Orange clubs to resist Home Rule. The action of the authorities today was the first interference with the importation of arms.

How the thieves managed to enter and take away the spirits in such large quantity has not been discovered.

OBJECTS TO CRITICISM.

Virginia Defendant Shows Resentment in Baltimore Court.

Baltimore, Md., June 4.—There was much excitement yesterday in Part 2 of the Superior Court when Benjamin H. Robinson, of Westmoreland county resented a criticism of his statements by Attorney Harry B. Wolf, and started toward Mr. Wolf exclaiming: "If the court can't protect me, I'll protect myself."

Vigorous pounding of the gavel by Judge Dawkins and the Judge's threat to have Mr. Robinson locked up brought the indignant man to his senses and to his seat at the trial table.

Mr. Wolf was attorney for Benjamin C. Grimes, of High Point, Va., who was suing Mr. Robinson for walnut timber cut from land of Mr. Grymes. Several times during the trial Mr. Robinson had made audible remarks with reference to questions asked by Mr. Wolf. The climax came when Mr. Wolf was arguing the case before the jury. Mr. Robinson was seated at the trial table beside his lawyer, Morris A. Soper, when he suddenly arose and advanced toward Mr. Wolfe. Then came the scene which for a moment appeared likely to result in a fist fight.

Mr. Grymes contended that he only sold Mr. Robinson the timber of 12 trees, while Mr. Robinson contended that he bought all the walnut timber on the land. Mr. Grymes attached the lumber when it arrived here and claimed $250, while Mr. Robinson tendered $100. The jury gave Mr. Grymes a cerdict for $236.25.

Found Dead.

Benjamin C. Gibson, a teacher, of Owensboro, Ky., who disapeared today sago from Columbia University where he was studying for a degree of bachelor of science, was found dead in the East river at New York yesterday.

Gibson wore jewelry and carried money when friends last saw him on the college steps. When the body was recovered there was nothing of value found.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"I have killed my boy with an ax!" exclaimed Mrs. Clara McManaway, in Frankfort, Ky., last night to George Armstrong, her son by another marriage, when the latter returned home from work. The body of 7-year-old Raymond McManaway with two gashes in the head, was found by Armstrong in another room of the house. Mrs. McManaway was taken into custody pending an investigation of her story that the killing was accidental. She said the boy fell under the axe while she was chopping wood. She collapsed after telling her story. Physicians express the belief that she is insane.

Llewellyn Johnson, aged 40, and Eva Johnson, aged 33, his wife, were found dead in the bedroom of their home at Ostander, Ohio, yesterday afternoon by one of their children. The throat of each was cut and life was extinct. The bodies were lying in a pool of blood and everything indicated that Johnson had killed his wife and then committed suicide. Mrs. Johnson's waist was torn off and it was evident that she had put up a desperate struggle for her life. The couple had quarreled frequently. They had six children ranging from two to twelve years of age. The children say their father spent an hour at noon in sharpening the razor with which the deed was done.

Mrs. Hallie B. Martin yesterday shot and killed her husband, Charles L. Martin, an automobile salesman in St. Louis. The shooting was the climax of a quarrel in which Mrs. Martin accused her husband of being attentive to another woman. Mrs. Martin said she fired while her husband was advancing toward her with a knife.

One man was killed and five others were overcome by gas early yesterday while sleeping in a tunnel near Soldier, Ky., on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad.

W G. Lee was re-elected grand president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen yesterday at San Francisco.

Leo Graff, a painter, hung eight stories above the street in New York by a rope for fifteen minutes yesterday, when the scaffold on which he was working fell, and when rescued collapsed from the terrible strain. Gustav Tholen was thrown to the roof of the next building and died in the Flower Hospital. Graff and Tholen were at work on the Alphi Delta Phi Club at 426 West Forty fourth street. Graff, as the rope snapped, seized the remaining rotten strands. The falling scaffold landed on Tholen.

For several minutes Graff hung on the rope, calling for help. A large crowd gathered, but not one came to his rescue.

A man ran up to the roof, and with the assistance of some clerks pulled Graff to safety. Then he collapsed. Tholen was taken from the adjoining roof, but died without regaining consciousness.

Isaac R. Theise, a diamond merchant, of 47 Maiden Lane, New York, was mysteriously robbed of jewels valued at between $40,000 and $50,000 shortly before noon yesterday. This crime was comimtted two blocks south of the so-called police dead line at Fulton street, beyond which no thieves are supposed to venture.

Weighted down by stones attached. Weighed down by stones attached to the legs by cords, the body of an unidentified man was taken by fishermen from Lake Michigan, at Chicago an dthe police began an investigation of what is apparently a murder mystery. The body had been in the water four weeks, it is believed.

While a handful of men still were offering dogged resistance to the rebel troops of General Lucio Blanco, "constitutionalist" commander-in-chief of the state of Tamaulipas at 10 o'clock last night, Matamoras, Mexico, is practically in the hands of revolutionists after a battle waged without interruption since 10:30 o'clock this morning. Col. Eschastera with 100 volunteers, remnants of the federal garrison, is making the last stand from the roof of the cathedral an dthe theater in Halada Plaza, but their subjection regarded as certain. The rebels are hurling dynamite at intervals in an effort to dislodge the Eschaserta force.

The combined efforts of Detective Boyer and Special Policeman Credon were required yesterday to prevent A. D. Hayworth, a Washington publisher, from attacking John P. Kirwan, 23 years old, traveling salesman, whom he found in a house in Philadelphia with his runaway daughter, Vivian M. Hayworth, 19 years old. It is alleged Vivian and Kirwan met at a ball in Washington on New Year's eve, and, although they had not seen each other again until recently, corresponded frequently. Miss Hayworth celebrated her nineteen birthday last Thursday, and on Friday went to Philadelphia where she met Kirwan.

Charged with homicide, Mrs. S. L. Woodford, wife of the former U. S. Minister to Spain, was arrested yesterday in Bridgeport, Conn., and placed under $2,500 bonds, because the automobile she was learning to dirve, ran down and killed William Stanhauser, a laborer, in Fairefild, Conn.

For RoofS

Why Security Wide-Weld Roofing Meets All the Requirements of the Good Roof

What These Requirements Are

The Good Roof first of all should be weather-proof.

It should be a protection and not an element of danger in case of fire.

It should be durable and wear for years without needing repairs. It should not have to be painted in order to preserve it.

It should not absorb moisture, or be subject to influence of climatic changes that will produce warping, shrinking, splitting, cracking, breaking, pulling out of nails, tearing of material, channeling or other troubles.

It should be uniform in quality since it cannot be stronger than its weakest point.

All nails should be covered in such a way they cannot rust or break off, make holes through the roof and cause leaks.

Joints should be reduced to a minimum and be permanently water-tight.

The roof should be economical—in other words the cost of securing these advantages should not be excessive.

Security Wide Weld Roofing possesses all these requirements of the Good Roof. Order of

When you buy a Studebaker wagon you buy a wagon that will last until you turn the farm over to your son and he turns it over to his son.

One of the first Studebaker wagons ever made saw constant service for thirty years, and we will gladly send you the names of farmers who have in their possession wagons that have been in constant use anywhere from 17 to 48 years—and there are thousands of them. We are building the same kind of wagons today.
